Whanger and Cannell Chosen For 1953 Citizenship Trophies

Nancy Whanger and Scott Cannell are the 1953 recipients of Citizenship trophies at Shaker Heights High School. The announcement was made during the annual Honor Day Assembly on Wednesday, May 27.

The citizenship awards are made each year to one young man and one young woman in the twelfth grade who, by vote of their classmates, excel in both scholarship and activities.

In February Nancy and Scott were among those earning gold keys for high scholarship, and both have been active in clubs and sports throughout four years of high school.

Nancy has been secretary of the Student Council; vice-president of her class in its junior year, both secretary and president of her Y-Teen group; editor of the Scroll and of the Student Handbook; club editor of the Gristmill, assistant director of Girl Crazy, a member of the P. A. staff, the choir and the sixteen-voice choir, the Honor Study Hall Central Committee, Spanish Club, Travel Club, and French Club for which she served as vice-president.

For her homeroom she has served in the capacity of president, vice-president, welfare chairman, and student and social council representative. She has also participated in basketball, volleyball, and hockey, and filled numerous spots in youth organizations at Plymouth Church. She has also worked as switchboard operator for the Shaker Square Company. She expects to attend Duke University.

Scott has been senior class president, as well as president of the choir and vice-president of his freshman class. He recently had an important part in One Touch of Venus. His sports activities have included football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, and track. He has been an Honor Study Hall advisor and a member of the Student Council, the Booster force, the Civics Committee, and dance committees. At Christ Church he has been an acolyte and a member of the Young People's Club.

His work experience includes such varied activities as snow shoveling, Plain Dealer paper boy, trucker for H. A. Erf Acoustical Company, and service station attendant for the Standard Oil Company. His college choice is Yale.

Other seniors nominated for this honor were Patricia Drechsel, Eileen Flaherty, William Freund, and Howard Nudelman.

HAPPY VACATION!

Student Council Representatives Visit More Schools

May 21 was set aside as the annual Visitation Day for the Student Council members. Every council representative attended for the day one of the following eleven schools: Canton McKinley, Youngstown Boardman, Painesville Harvey, Massillon, Maple Heights, Brush, University School, Western Reserve Academy, Laurel, and Andrews School for Girls.

The purposes of these visitations are to become more closely associated with neighboring schools, to learn the way in which other student governments operate, and to obtain some ideas about extracurricular activities.

Earl Biederman, vice president of the Student Council, decided upon the schools to be visited, and the number of council members that went to each school. The students signed up for their preference, with upper classmen having priority.

Teachers and students provided transportation after having a signed statement of permission to ride in private cars from the parents of the council representatives.

Class of 279 Central Committee Is Chosen, Leaves June 5 Announced at Honor Day

On Friday, June 5, at 8 p. m., seniors will take official leave of Shaker Heights High School at the annual commencement exercises. The graduates, in their caps and gowns, will march down the auditorium aisle to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance, played by the high school orchestra.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. L. Humphrey Walz of Plymouth Church, followed by two selections, Salvation Is Created and Lord, Thou Art Mighty, by the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. Reynold Ellis.

The commencement address will be given by the Hon. C. William O'Neill, attorney general of Ohio. Mr. Russell Rupp, principal, will present the class to Mr. Rufus Day, president of the Shaker Heights Board of Education, who will award the diplomas.

Faculty Meets, Faculty Eats

The double-period faculty luncheon yesterday honored staff members of this and former years who will not return to the Senior High School in the fall. Mr. Alfred S. Jones, Mr. Howard Moritz, Mr. Fred David and Miss Margaret Kuechle.

Faculty members gathered in the library promptly at 11:50 a. m. and then adjourned to the teachers' cafeteria for a special repast. The affair was planned by Dr. M. Evelyn Dilley of the faculty social committee, with the aid of Miss Alice Barnes, dietician.

At the Honor Day assembly the members of the Central Committee for next year were announced. They are Sally Fullerton, Nancy Pekoc, Marlyn Speer, Bob Branand, Dick Clokey, and Don Shagrin. These six boys and girls who will be seniors next year have a tremendous responsibility awaiting them, one that requires self-discipline, as well as discipline of others; time, for they meet once every week; and, of course, complete honesty, as the name Honor Study Hall implies.

Caldwell, Jeffery Place in May Show

Both members of Shaker High School's art faculty, Mr. Charles Jeffery and Mr. Kenneth Caldwell, have won awards in the Art Museum May Show which opened May 6 and will close June 14.

Mr. Jeffery won third prize for a group of six enamels on metal which pictured ecclesiastical scenes. He also won honorable mention in jewelry for a group of ten brooches.

Mr. Caldwell won third prize in jewelry for a group of six pieces. Some of his work included a mobile pendant, necklace, and earrings.

Shakerites Instruct Future Classmates

The annual Student Council orientation panel for ninth graders was held at Shaker Junior High School on Wednesday, May 13. The assembly's purpose is to instruct incoming sophomores in various phases of Senior High School life.

Participants were Bob Alfred, speaking on the entire student government, Carmen Cimoroni, on the social program; Pat Drechsel, on Shaker publications; Alice Saunders, on music, dramatics, and assemblies; Dick Clokey, on sports for both boys and girls and on cheerleading; and Jim Samartini, on the organized club program of the high school. Sarge Karch, the newly elected president of the high school, acted as moderator for the panel.

Each year three boys and three girls are carefully selected from among the numerous Honor Study Hall advisors to be on the Central Committee. They receive this great privilege after being elected by the active Central Committee upon recommendation of the faculty and Deans. They have many duties such as appointing Honor Study Hall advisors, revising the study hall's rules, and holding court for all violators of the Honor Study Hall pledge, on the average of one student or less a week, removing them when necessary.

Miss Pauline Sellers, its faculty advisor, is very proud of this, the second oldest institution in the school, and she has good reason to be. She started the Honor Study Hall about fifteen years ago and has raised it to the outstanding position which it now holds in our school. People from New Jersey, Florida, Pennsylvania, and even Australia have written Miss Sellers for information on this organization of hers, for there is no other of its kind in this country that really functions.

The Central Committee elects its own president, vice president, secretary, sergeant-at-arms, and Student Council representative. They meet in that charming office at the end of the cafeteria. They really feel at home there because that office was decorated by former members of the Central Committee with the help of Miss Sellers. They made their own draperies, built some of the furniture in there, and procured their own paintings. It's a little room which belongs to them and only them.

Thompson, Wesselmann To Speak Next Fall

One of the reasons Shaker is such a fine school is that it plans well in advance. A good example of this is the program which has been outlined for two Shakerites this summer. Gail Thompson and Lee Wesselmann will visit Community Chest organizations throughout the city in preparation for the Community Chest assembly next fall.

These two students have been selected because of their merits in Mr. Crosby's speech classes, and may speak on their findings at other organizations around Cleveland.

New Editors Chosen

Next fall the Shakerite will be under the direction of four new and highly capable editors. Howard Filston, Helen Dickey, Melinda Shuster, and Gordon Glaser who will handle sports, will take the place of Richard Brandes, Robin Carter, Betty Lou Nitchie and Tom Gelehrter.

Marjorie Foley, at the helm of exchange and circulation, will see that papers are distributed. Dr. Utz has not decided who will be the business and advertising manager for 1954. In September there will be a recruiting of new reporters.

Dollars for Designs Go to Art Students

Five of Shaker's budding artists won awards in the 1953 National Scholastic Art Awards in Pittsburgh. Victor Kord of H. R. 211 carried off top honors, winning a scholarship to the National Art School in Washington, D. C. He was one of 109 seniors in the whole country who received a scholarship.

In addition, Victor won $25 each for his top prize entries in the fields of crayon, pencil drawing, and colored pencil drawing; also he was awarded places for opaque watercolor and colored pencil drawing.

Craig McArt of H. R. 212 won $25 top prize in fabric design. Places in opaque watercolor, general design, and fabric design were won by Sandra Diamond, Catherine Berger, and Judith Glezen, respectively.

Year a Success; Next Can Be Better

As the school year of 1952-53 draws to a close and the seniors are either looking forward to college or reminiscing over their high school experiences, perhaps those of us who will be returning to these old ivy-covered walls next fall should consider the year from a more objective viewpoint.

In general it has been an enjoyable and successful one. In athletics, the Shaker teams can boast many accomplishments; in music and art many honors have been won; and the social program in its second year has been improved and has provided much enjoyment for all its supporters.

However, in this last phase of our activities there has been some friction throughout the year. Therefore, we could probably do well to consider in what ways the trouble can be smoothed out.

First, perhaps, it should be said to those who are too quick to voice their dissatisfaction that the social council is your organization and is working with only your interests at heart. It can only try to carry out your suggestions. If you aren't willing to help the council plan your social affairs, you can't expect it to just dream up what you would enjoy.

On the other hand, the social council may be trying to please too many people who aren't taking part in the program anyway. There is a good-sized group of Shakerites who do support the social program, and perhaps the council should try to please them. Then, when others see that the majority of Shakerites are having fun, they will take a more active part.

So if both sides try harder to cooperate with each other, and put to good use the facilities of the new social wing, and the suggestions that came out of the election campaigns, next year can be the greatest ever for every Shakerite.

Seniors in Daze—Class and Honor

Shaker's busy seniors' calendars this week included the annual class honor day on Wednesday, May 27. It began with the senior assembly, where the citizenship award winners were announced. Scott Cannell, senior class president, gave his farewell address, next year's Student Council was inducted, and the new Central Committee was introduced. Music for the senior procession and recessional, the traditional march of the graduating class, was provided by the orchestra.

In the afternoon, the auditorium was the scene of the class party. Jolly parodies of popular songs were presented by the senior members of the orchestra. Then the class history was enacted. The drama production, written and directed by Frances Anzelone, was divided into three acts, representing the sophomore, junior and senior years, respectively.

The remainder of the program included some clever awards to in-and-outstanding Shakerites, and a toast to Shaker. Seniors agreed, "All's well that ends well," as a social hour, complete with refreshments and Gristmill autographing, rounded out the day.

Senior class advisor is Mrs. Nathalie Anderson, who has charge of all class activities, while the committee sponsors were Mrs. Edith Carothers, Dr. M. Evelyn Dilley and Mr. Robert Crosby.

Alumni Carry On At Dartmouth

Two Shaker alumni, John Rosenberger and Jim Flynn, were elected to the offices of vice-president and treasurer respectively of the class of 1956 at Dartmouth College. While attending Shaker, these boys were leaders, also. John, or "Dutch," was a gold scholarship key winner selected by the seniors to be an Honor Citizen of the Class of '52. He also held the office of senior class president as well as numerous other positions during his high school career, together with a full athletic program.

Jim's high school days were equally filled with important offices and activities, chief of which were treasurer of the Student Council and football and baseball captain.

What's Up!

with Ann and Krup

Pausing a minute between spoonfuls of a "Dairy Queen" sundae, Barb breathlessly informed me that Jo Hansen and Paul Balazs were going steady. (I guess she must think I'm deaf, dumb and blind!)

Did you hear that Joie Faragher is a candidate for the sweetheart of SAE at Case? Of course Steve Mihaly is awfully proud of his steady! We hope that by the time you read this, Joanne will have been declared "Sweetheart of SAE."

Bev Imars is another Shaker gal who has found "the man" on the Case campus. She and Tim McDonald are a steady twosome, along with Sal Rutherford and Ronnie Guentzler.

I guess everyone knows that Jean Ippolito and Danny Clawson, and Suzy Creech and Bob Perry are going together. The swimming team really cleans up when there are girls involved!

Orchids, formals, white dinner jackets, parties, open houses, and more parties mean the Senior Prom. Some of the couples who will spend the memorable evening of June 4 together are Joanie Iove and Bill Smalley; Jay Shultz and his Florida dream-girl come true, Daisy Weisberg; Carol Schonberg and Dave Marcus; Judy Willkoff and Lee Tenenbaum; Ellen Friedman and Howie Silby; Carole Marchand and Scott Cannell; Nancy Lien and Don Webb; Karen Black and Ted Baumgardner; Carolyn Noble and Johnny Garson; Betty Harwell and Dave Hilliard; Kilsy Barber and Geo. King; Pat Drechsel and Bob Wheeler; Helen Dickey and Stu Hays; and Elaine Smalley and Bob Moss.

Tempus—Mmm Boy! Was It Ever! Fidgets

Well, school is over for another year. No more geometry propositions, physics formulas, cut-up frogs, or Shakespeare tests, at least until next year. Admittedly, during seventh period, Janice Armstrong sometimes did wonder whether there was an end to American history and Mr. Harbourn. But now it's all over.

I can still see the big "sinisters" showing the little sisters around school last fall. Back in September the Demerit Panel was just getting started. The social season opened with a bang at the Hi-Y Fall Ball. Note to the Hi-Y boys: Did you ever return the rail fence that you . . . ? One of the highlights of the football season was the defeat of the Heights Tigers 28-0 by "Sugar Jim's" Raiders.

About this time, all Shakerites were telling bop jokes. Miss Graham wishes students to note: Bop talk is not new. Mark Twain once mentioned riding over a crazy trail. Speaking of jokes, I heard a good one. But because of censorship, only the last line can be printed: "Nothing; it just wore out."

Oh, well, back to the school year. In November were held such events as I Remember Mama and the girls' slumberless party. Many boys would have liked to attend the slumberless party but didn't. Reason: pincurls, pajamas, parents, and policemen. As the final notes of the choir production of the Messiah faded into the distance, everyone was looking forward to the Holly Ball and vacation.

Examinations were no more than graded when the "Gold Diggers" took the boys to a dance. That reminds me. Recently a letter was received from B. Austin Chugg, the famous casting director. He wishes to thank all those who applied for the part of the albino spider in his late musical tragedy for their keen interest. He also said in his letter that if he ever needs another albino spider he will know where to come. On Valentine's Day, Cupid shot an arrow into Miss Kuechle and put a ring on her finger. Double Door and the Junior Prom followed fast. The year was full of fun, but soon it was gone.

A word to the graduating seniors: Don't forget us back at Shaker, and come to see us. A special note to Nancy Lewis: Put Don Brown down! We know you'd like to take him to college, but we need him here for a vice-president.

Homerooms Pick Council Members

On May 13, in accordance with the recent amendment to the constitution, the sophomore and junior homerooms elected their student council representatives for the coming year.

The sophomores chose the following representatives and alternates: Homeroom 101A, Carol Barber and Nancy Burnett; 101B, Nelle Carter and Dennis Brooks; 102, Ken Drechsel and Liz Deutsch; 104, Mort Glickman and John Glick; 105, Jim Hoff and Norman Jacobs; 108, Jane Killpack and Bob King; 110, Marlene Marshall and Margaret Mayher; 111, Lynn Newman and Harry Millis; 117, Harold Richman and Mary Jane Price; 119, Dick Sanders and Vic Samuelson; 123, Dan Schweid and Sunny Shuster; 207, Matthew Von Baeyer and Joanne Tootikian; 304, Stephanie Williams and Dick Wilson.

The junior homerooms elected the following representatives and alternates: homeroom 100, Bill Boardman and Sue Bedell; 100A, Dick Clokey and Dick Brickman; 200B, Hank Dimlich and Jack Doyle; 215, Marjorie Foley and Sue Fox; 224, Jane Goodman and Susanne Gross; 306, Jack Kovach and Dick Kramer; 307, Nancy Lien and Ed Markus; 308, Tom Mason and Robert Perry; 309, Conrad Spoke and Janet Prindle; 310, Don Shagrin and Aron Shapiro; 311, Dawn Tamesin and Paula Wallach; 312, Tom Wilson and Dave Weber, and 300, Jo Hansen and Chuck Henzy.

Peppy Picnics Provide Plenty Pleasant Pastimes

Recently quite a number of Shakerites have been going "picnic crazy." First, on Saturday, May 2, the Social Council went to Squaw Rock for a chance to discuss the complaints and the ideas which the students had brought up in homeroom, and also to work on next year's social program.

Squaw Rock was next occupied by the Girls Leaders. A treat was in store for the seniors when the sophomores and juniors brought the food.

Going to Centerville Mills on Friday, May 22, were the boys of Hi-Y. This picnic was made unusual by a variety show presented by each of the three chapters competing against the others. The girls brought the refreshments.

The installation of next year's officers, under the direction of Lois Jaskulek and Phyllis Hersh, was the highlight of the Y-Teen picnic which was held Monday, May 25.

Squaw Rock was again invaded, when on Tuesday, May 26, the band and choir members descended upon the picnic grounds. Games and wading were the main attractions.

Creech Heads Sharcs; Fullerton, Y-Teens

Once again this spring, a part of Shaker's 30 clubs are electing their new officers who will preside during the coming year.

Heading Sharcs club during the 1953-54 school year will be Suzy Creech as president, Jane Crume, vice-president, Peggy Yoelson, secretary, and Trinky Quay, treasurer.

Y-Teen combined chapter prexy is Sally Fullerton, vice-president, Nancy Pekoe, secretary-treasurer, Ann McClelland. In the chapters, Jo Hansen and Greta Maerkle will lead the seniors, Lynn Newman and Nica Weston, the juniors.

Seniors Bid Cicero Fond (?) Farewell

Celebrating their two or three years of study under Dr. M. Evelyn Dilley, the members of her senior class in Latin lunched together at Stouffer's last Tuesday.

After years of absorbing Caesar or Vergil, and Cicero, the group absorbed a great deal of enjoyment in talking over their past years.

The luncheon is a traditional event that Dr. Dilley has continued for many years. After finals next week, a follow-up dinner at Dr. Dilley's home is to be given for the same group.

School Year Gone

Well, the 1952-53 school year is drawing to a close. We didn't think it would go so fast, did we? It seems like only last week that we received our first report card and began looking forward to June. Those weeks have certainly flown, though, and as the glorious seniors march down the aisle to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance, let's look back over the school year.

From the standpoint of wins and losses, our athletic department has had a fairly successful year. To start it off the tennis team won the LEL crown. The football team ended the season with a 5-4 record, including a jolting win over the Heights Tigers. The wrestlers became city co-champs and the swimmers took second place in the city meet and third in the LEL meet. The trackmen recaptured the Hilltop Trophy and also won the first annual Euclid Relays.

Politics played an important part in our school year, too. First we chose our highly competent class officers, and on October 29 the C. E. P. held a mock election, which closely paralleled the national election. The political climax came to a close in April with the campaign and election of Student Council officers.

Many wonderful dances also highlighted the school year. Most outstanding were the Harvest Hop, the Gold Diggers Dance, Hawaiian Holiday, Junior Prom, and the Starlight Stomp. The only dance remaining now is the long-awaited Senior Prom.

Of course, the Social Council planned other events besides dances. When they were not occupied with plans for the new wings, they planned the Megaphone and Halloween parties and the Football Jam-boree. And what girl will ever forget the fun at the Slumber Party?

Other memorable events were performed by the band, orchestra, and choirs. The highlights were the spine-tingling Messiah, the LEL Band, Orchestra, and Choir Festivals, the Bobby Sox Revue, and the grand job the A Cappella Choir did in presenting One Touch of Venus. And we can't forget the inspiring I Remember Mama or the suspense-packed Double Door, both produced by the Drama Department.

Well, there's a rundown of the year's activities, Shakerites. We've had a lot of hard work and more than our share of fun, too. Wonder what next year will be like.

They Love Us Not; Part of Profs Leave

As another school year draws to a close, certain members of the faculty, as well as the graduating class, are forming plans for next fall.

Among those teachers who will not be at Shaker next year is Mr. Crosby. He has a year's leave to study at Indiana University.

Shaker Day Camp receives a plug, since Mr. Moritz will be devoting his full time to it next year. He and Mrs. Moritz hope to find time for another vacation like their fabulous trip to Cuba last winter.

Mr. Jones, who will most likely receive his doctor's degree this summer, will work next fall in a large power plant, at an interesting job.

June 20 is the date set by Miss Kuechle for her wedding. Although Shakerites shall all miss her, they wish to congratulate her and her future husband.

A dull one; there's no point.

'One Touch of Venus' Success for Choir

One Touch of Venus, presented by Shaker's first-period choir, was a gay musical with many good laughs and songs.

The play, with lyrics by Ogden Nash and music by Kurt Weill, was about the goddess, Venus, who made a trip to earth and fell in love with a barber. Venus was portrayed by Virginia Webb, and her boy friend, Rodney Hatch, was played by Larry Kahanowitch. Scott Cannell was Whitelaw Savory, the handsome villain, and Sally Maras played Molly, his right-hand man.

A cast party was held at Dick Woody's after Saturday night's performance.

A Sohio-cinth to Scott Cannell for snagging that scholarship; it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy, we say. Even as the local emporiums start the Christmas hoopla as soon as we've hurdled the Halloween goblins, so Shaker's football coaches whip out the Organization Schedule and Information Sheet ere we're knee-deep in baseball. It's a dizzy world—but nice!

And while we're on the subject of our stalwarts, honestly, now—who do you think was more excited about the Sports Banquet—the Shakerites or their peres? Oh, well, the armchair athletes are entitled to their fun, too.

Repercussions from our previous column: Funk has competition on that ice cream deal—yet another cool cat—Currier to you—has challenged the champ—offers to eat him under the freezer, provided the brand is Sealtest. The stakes? More ice cream, natch!

Its Lader than you think, and the final bell will soon Towle for a Fine crop of seniors. Frankel-ly speaking, we Wood not be one Speck sad if we could have these Wise Kings and Kutil, Regal looking queens linger on, but since Al-thans must end, we Kane do nothing but hope to Walsh again with them before too much time has gone down the Pike. As we Luke at their record as a class, we realize that they have left their Marcus permanently upon Shaker High. A Reiter crowd there'll never be, and we're all Reich-er for having known these Diamonds of perfection, and for having had this Salter the earth bunch with us for three years. We want to say that the Lampl always be shining for Demsons and daughters of Shaker, no Matter how Munch time may pass before they can Janney back this way.

Shakerites Globe-Trot To All Parts This Summer

This summer Shakerites are scattering to all parts of the globe in order to prepare for next year.

Earl Biederman, Chuck Henzy, Mike Brown, Don Brown, and Dan Clawson will be at Camp Adanac.

Many of our travelers are setting their sights on the sunny playland of California. Among these are Tom and Ellen Gries, Bill Korecky, Jerry Lewis, John Beltz, and Stu Hays.

Sherry Falsgraf is lucky enough to be able to visit all the cultural centers of Europe.

Back at home the Shaker pool will be enhanced by the appearance of Nancy Lewis as life guard.

Sarge Karch, Hank Dimlich, Paul Balazs, Bob Branand, and Fred Bentoff will be playing some basketball in an effort to bring Shaker a championship team next year.

Carmen Cimoroni really is going to be busy. He is going to work on a construction job, play in a band, and, of course, help the cheerleaders.

Up in Maine Kippy Miller, John Spivack, and Peter Danford will be waiters at a camp.

Among other Shakerites who are traveling this summer is John Tyner, who will spend three months in England. Part of this time will be spent in London, and the rest at his grandmother's farm on the Isle of Wight.

Also traveling will be Carol Weiss, whose destination is California, while Harry Millis and Ed Herron are bound for the Cape Cod region. Judy Eichner and Sue Edwards are off to Piseco, New York, and Donna Rebman will be in Con-neaut for a while.

In August, Roberta Occasione will quit the job she hopes to get and take a trip to New York and Pennsylvania. Meanwhile, Margie Mayher will be basking in the sun at Martha's Vineyard.

A few of the campers are Evelyn Ramsdell, who will be at Camp Teela-Wooket, and Barbara Meyerson, whose vacation will be spent at Camp Wenonah.

Here at home, Eleanor Rand, Margot Krenitz, and Judy Schoenberg will be found working diligently (?) at Higbee's and John Glick will be slaving away for a landscaper. Jean Bloomenthal also hopes to get a job downtown.

Shaker Students Rank High In Junior Achievement

Many Shaker High School students have been members of award winning companies in Junior Achievement for the 1952-53 season.

Alan Daus this week went to Chicago to represent his group, Lectro-Craft Company, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel when a national award of a permanent bronze plaque is presented the Thompson Products, the sponsoring company, from the National Electrical Distributors Association. Alan was also invited to speak before the Cleveland Sales Executives' Club luncheon where he was awarded a choice of two scholarships: The Dale Carnegie course in Effective Speaking, Human Relations and Leadership Training, or the Dale Carnegie sales course.

Elizabeth Levy was awarded the highest individual J. A. pin, the Executive Pin for being a second-year member and having contributed to the advancement of Junior Achievement. She held offices in her company for two years and was an exceptional member.

Companies of which Shaker students were members took both local and national awards. The following were among those in winning groups: Michael Ban, Jerome Mandel, Peggy Gore, Charlotte Ostrow, Bernette Kestenbaum, and Larry Gusman, of the Foam-O-Products Company, sponsored by Arthur G. McKee Company.

Alan Daus, John Dettelbach, Philip Gould, Evelyn Kahn, Paul Dennis, and Daniel Edwards, of the Lectro-Craft Company, sponsored by the Thompson Products Company.

Stan Bernstein, president of the First Ohio Junior Bank, sponsored by the Society for Savings.

Jim Herman, Harvey Scholnick, Paul Rabb, Ed McKernan, John Harris, Neil Ringel, Alan Newman, James Glueck, Merle Horowitz, Ed DeVoy, and Dick Schwartz, of the Alum-A-Sign Company, sponsored by the National Screw and Manufacturing Company.

Judith Arnold, Gordon Silver, and Elizabeth Levy of the Handy-Andy Company, sponsored by the Cleveland Graphite Bronze Company.

David Marcus contributed outstanding assistance to the local headquarters in the field of general personnel.

Junior Achievement is a national organization with branches in key cities throughout the nation. Junior Achievement affords its members the opportunity to gain experience in free enterprise and practical business organization through several companies sponsored by local industry. Membership is open to all high school students early in the fall quarter each school year.

Leaders Get Awards At Annual May Tea

On May 20, the Girls Leaders Club sponsored the annual Awards Tea. The guest speaker, Naomi Alienbaugh, talked on the subject, "Am I a Good Leader?" After her talk, the awards were given, and the girls, with their mothers, had tea and cake.

To obtain a Shaker "S," a girl must have 500 points. The following girls received letters:

When a girl has obtained 1000 points, she receives a gold cup. To get her points, she may participate in various after-school sports which are each worth so many points. The following girls received cups:

Ardis Allen, Joan Blanca, Barbara Giesey, Marge Matter, Jane McLaughlin, Pat Kimpel, Lillian Racz, Alice Roth, and Sonja Van Horn.

When a girl has obtained 1500 points she receives a gold key. Barbara Giesey and Sonja Van Horn received gold keys.

1953 Class Will

Ivan Wolpaw leaves his first-semester chemistry project to anyone brave enough to attempt it next year.

Stuart Hays leaves his car to Helen Dickey.

Nora Richman leaves Harold to follow in her footsteps.

Dave Demson leaves one hundred extra inches of ads to the Shakerite office.

The senior class leaves fifteen bruised and battered homeroom teachers.

Homeroom 113 leaves Zip and his turtle.

Ann Schoenberger leaves her love of athletics to Sandy Cohen.

Polly Sohlbach leaves her week ends at Dartmouth to Barbara Rees.

Eileen Flaherty sadly leaves her favorite red car.

Larry Klein leaves his beard to Larry Kahanowitch.

Roger Dorer leaves Marilyn.

Guy Conkey leaves 3c to Mr. Heinlen for the Conkey Memorial Field House.

Ken Chiara leaves some of his demerits to Mary Jo.

The C. E. P. classes leave the General to some poor unsuspecting juniors.

The seniors leave the coke machine to the junior class in hopes that they'll get it to working.

The Student Council leaves RDK time to RDK.

Judy Shagrin and Barb Larson leave Mr. Ellis with an empty piano bench.

Carmen Cimoroni leaves his blaring tenor to Hank Dimlich.

Shirley Obrock leaves her hair to Karen Black.

Barbara Weber leaves her daily letters to the Armed Forces to Alice Saunders.

Squatley and Blackstone leave on a trip to Eastern Siberia. Bon voyage, boys.

Dave Speck and Kip Miller leave the Shaker Horse without any body.

Eddie Berger leaves to help Ogden Nash write lyrics.

Collect Tax Stamps

During the past few weeks Rochelle Bernstein, chairman of the tax stamp drive, could be found down in the Shakerite office counting tax stamps. As of the latest count, the total was $130.10.

Taking top honors was Homeroom 123 with $731.64. Their tax stamp chairman is Carol Simon. Homeroom 100, led by Ray Bergman, ranked second, and Room 308, under the leadership of Alan Mink, was third.

Local Lament

Though April snowstorms may come your way,
They bring the blizzards that blow in May.
And if it's snowing, have no regrets:
It isn't snowing snow, you know—
They're tearing cigarettes! (Luckies, Natch!)

And if you see clouds upon the hill,
A month from now you'll see them still.
Don't look for any bluebird or listen

for his song:
Since you live in Cleveland, you'll be waiting awfully long.
Abominous

Eichorn, Deutsch Win Book Awards

Len Eichorn, junior, and Elizabeth Deutsch, sophomore, both members of the Shakerite staff, received first-place awards in the New York Herald-Tribune favorite book contest.

Cindermen Rated Underdogs in 26th LEL Meet

Host Lakewood Is Favored as Raiders Seek Second Place

Tonight marks the twenty-sixth running of the LEL track meet to be held at Lakewood beginning at 6 p. m. The cinderfest promises to be one of the top track attractions of the year with Coach Carl Antel's Lakewood team expected to capture their twenty-second loop victory in its twenty-six year existence.

It looks like a three-way fight for second place with Shaw, Elyria, and Shaker all battling it out till the final gun is fired. Last year it was Cleveland Heights who won, while the Red Raiders finished second, 91½ points off the winning pace.

Lakewood will use its speedsters, Keith Moore and Ken Brown, in the hurdles. Their competition will come from Shaw's Alex Michalos and Shaker's Paul Balazs and Bill Korecky. In the 100-yard dash there will be Don Jones of Elyria and Jay Hunton of Shaw.

Gil Gray of Shaw and John Spivack will battle it out in the mile run. Both Elyria and Shaker are strong in the 880-yard relay. In the 440-yard dash Lakewood will use Dick Miller and Roger Skillman, and Ted Thomas of Euclid should be right up there. It should be Don Fleischer of Lakewood and Gray of Shaw in the 880-yard run. In the 20-yard dash it will be a three-way fight among Hunton, Ed Fields of Elyria, and Guy Conkey of Shaker.

Lakewood's mile relay team, consisting of Fred Nemeth, Miller, Skillman and Fleischer, should have no trouble in the last event.

In the field events it should be close between Jack Krill of Cleveland Heights and Armand Hess of Elyria in the discus throw. Jerry Hoerig of Elyria should take the pole vault easily. Jim Wan of Lakewood looks good in the broad jump.

Shaker's Bob Wheeler is expected to have little trouble in the shot put event, while it will be close between Euclid's Sam Willow, Lorain's Bob Sipos, and Shaker's Dick Slowey in the high jump.

Shakerites should make it a point to be out at Lakewood tonight to show their team how much they're behind them in their drive for the LEL crown.

District Play

At the district golf tournament held at the Highland golf course the Shaker golf team finished tenth out of a field of twenty schools, fifty-three strokes off first-place Willoughby. Shaker's scores were as follows: Ray Beallo, 45-51-96; Mickey Reich, 56-41-97; Haskell Hinnant, 47-49-96; Dave Schweid, 51-46-97.

In the district tennis finals at the Lakewood courts the doubles team of Art Althans and Jay Davis were the only first-round survivors from Coach John Harbourn's team as they defeated John Adams. At the time the paper went to press, Davis and Althans still had to face Cleveland Heights and the winner of the Shaw-Brush clash in order to go to Columbus.

Thinclads Qualify Five for Columbus

This year the Shaker Red Raider track team sent Bob Wheeler plus the mile relay team to the state meet at Columbus on May 22-23. Shaker scored six points in the district meet. Wheeler qualified in the shot put by placing fourth.

The half-mile relay team of Jack Goodman, Guy Conkey, Bill Boardman, and Bill Freund failed to qualify as they took fifth place. In the day's final event the mile relay team consisting of Steve Lampl, Bill Boardman, Jim Breitweg, and Tom Friedman took third.

Shaker has been hampered by injuries all year but has still maintained an undefeated record in dual meets. The team hasn't lost since the Lorain meet in 1951.

Honor Varsity Boys At All-Sport Banquet

On Thursday, May 21, in the high school cafeteria the All-Sport banquet was held. Instead of having a dinner at the end of each season to honor the teams, the athletic department decided to combine all celebrations into one large banquet.

Besides honoring the boys who have participated on Shaker's athletic teams during the past year, the banquet also provided a time to pay tribute to the members of the band. The boys and girls were guests of the athletic department and the parents. An excellent dinner and enjoyable evening were in store for all who attended.

Shaker Nine Travel to Elyria Tomorrow to End Good Season

Rain caused Coach Fred Heinlen to do a lot of reshuffling in his thirteen-game schedule, but with good weather tomorrow Shaker, one of the district's top teams, will end its highly successful season.

The Red Raider nine will travel to Elyria tomorrow for a morning game which was originally scheduled for last Monday. Game time is 10 a. m., and Shaker will send their ace southpaw, Rod Smith, to the mound. He'll be opposed by right-hander, Dick Kosco.

The Euclid game rained out on May 22 will not be replayed, because of interference with final exams. Because of the postponements, the final LEL standings are still not completed, but Shaker has mathematically clinched a first-division berth.

Shaker snapped a three-year-old jinx against Shaw High this season when they extended their win streak to five games, downing the Cardinals 8-3. Dick Moore went all the way to register his second victory and his second four-hitter.

Leftfielder Dick Eaton led the attack with two singles and three RBI's. Shortstop Sarge Karch also had two singles.

After coming within three outs of winning a 5-3 decision over Lakewood which was called because of rain, the Red Raiders came back eight days later to prove that they meant business by handing the Rangers a 6-3 defeat. Smith threw a four-hitter in chalking up his fourth triumph as against one setback. The "Big Man," Noel Slagle, paced Shaker with two singles and a double.

In the Lorain game, the Steelmen tasted their first LEL defeat when Shaker knocked them out of first place with a 4-1 victory. This time Smith limited the opponents to five safeties, three of which were infield scratches. Rod whiffed fourteen batters while issuing five passes.

Mort Janko, Don Shagrin, and Slagle collected two hits apiece. Third baseman George King, the team's leading batter, hitting at a .308 clip, drove in two RBI's.

Moore's four-hit pitching, backed by an eight-hit attack, gave the Lutheran Pioneers their second defeat of the season. Dick went the distance, fanning eleven batsmen without issuing one free pass. Eaton supplied the long ball with a double and triple.

Clawson and Perry Named All-American

Marking the first time in Shaker's history that any members of the swimming team have received such an outstanding honor, Dan Clawson and Bob Perry were named to the All-American interscholastic swimming team.

The selection by a board of nation-wide coaches was based upon the past performances of the swimmers.

Dan says his biggest thrill came last December when he edged Warren Frischmann of Heights by one-tenth of a point in the diving event. Bob remembers the LEL meet when he beat Graham Vanderveer in the 200-yard free style and set a new record in the 100-yard free style.
